IN Search Of OURSELVES

Yes, it sounds rather trite, yet through our stay at Glassboro State most of us have found ourselves. We've defined our style of clothes and music, we've identified our true friends and we've cleared our minds in order to make room for direction in life, responsibilities and the courage to face our student loan payments.

This book certainly will not bring back all the memories that you have invested here but allow this book to act as a reminder-a reminder that GSC was a transition period for you and that you left here a new you.

IN Search Of EXCELLENCE

Excellence. Defined as "great merit or efficiency" it is something that, as students, we are in constant search of. Reaching not only for the "A" but also for the education to support that "A." Striving not only for personal development but also for the rewards of friendship. Excelling not only for a higher salary upon graduation but also for a more educated, more complete being. This and the following fourteen pages illustrate a colorful look at excellence here at GSC. A reminder, however, that even though we graduate we continue to search for excellence — not as students of Glassboro State but rather as students of Life.

The Seniors Pictured On This Page And The Previous Sixty One Pages Is Not A Complete Representation Of The Graduating Class Of 1990. These Are Only The Seniors Who Chose To Have Their Picture Taken During The First Two Months Of The School Year. We, The Oak Staff, Did Our Best In Identifying Those Pictured And Figuring Out Their Majors. Our Sincere Apologies To Anyone Who Is Listed Improperly.

ROTC: CHALLENGING THE FUTURE

Perhaps one of the most misunderstood organizations on the C campus is the Army Reserve Officers Training Corps, or simply ROTC. ROTC is a program to train college students be commissioned officers, (second lieutenants) in the US Army.

Most people assume the goal of ROTC is to soldier training, that is part of it, but ROTC's main goal is developing leadership. ROTC students (known as cadets) learn how to teach classes on military skills (ranging from marching to infantry tactics), organize and manage people and resources in complex organization and how influence their followers to successfully complete missions.

ROTC is broken down into two parts, Basic Course ROTC and Advanced Course ROTC. Basic course cadets learn most of the military skills taught in basic training, but in the style of a college course (as opposed to "Boot Camp" style).

Advanced Course Cadets are contracted. That means they agree to serve in either the active duty Army or the National Guard or Reserve after graduation.

The word "Reserve" in ROTC's title is somewhat misleading. ROTC Cadets have as much chance to be offered an active duty commission as a West Point Cadet or Officer Candidate School (OCS) student.

ROTC is taught no differently than any other college class. They meet twice a week (with additional functions often scattered throughout the week).

ROTC professors are known as Cadre. ROTC Cadre are full time Army Officers or Sergeants who were selected for ROTC because of outstanding performance in their fields. Although ROTC Cadre are supposed to be role models and mentors for their cadets, their main job is to be teachers.

Glassboro's ROTC program is an extension of that of the University of Pennsylvania's. The Penn program is known as the Crusader Battalion, named for the programs affiliation with the famed 316th Infantry Regiment. The Crusader Battalion serves not just Penn and Glassboro, but Bryn Mawr, Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science, Rutgers Camden and Gloucester County College. The Crusader Battalion has four companies, and Glassboro State is the only college to warrant having a company all to itself, Delta Company.

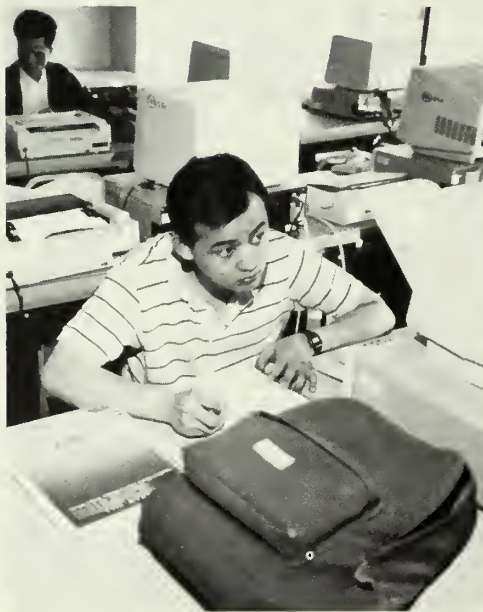

All of the Cadets say they are proud of what they are doing. All are volunteers.
